

Haitian Tap Tap

Haiti is a country deeply rooted in art, and when you visit, you can find art almost everywhere. A perfect example of Haiti's love of art is the Tap Tap. This is a type of public transportation, usually a former school bus or pick-up truck, that is used to travel around. The literal meaning of Tap Tap is "quick quick." The vehicles are painted with extravagant colors and designs, and can have slogans written throughout the exterior of the vehicle, while the interior has a loud sound system. The paintings on the bus come in many different styles, and sometimes showcase portraits of famous people, religious figures, or family members.

What you'll need:

- Markers or crayons

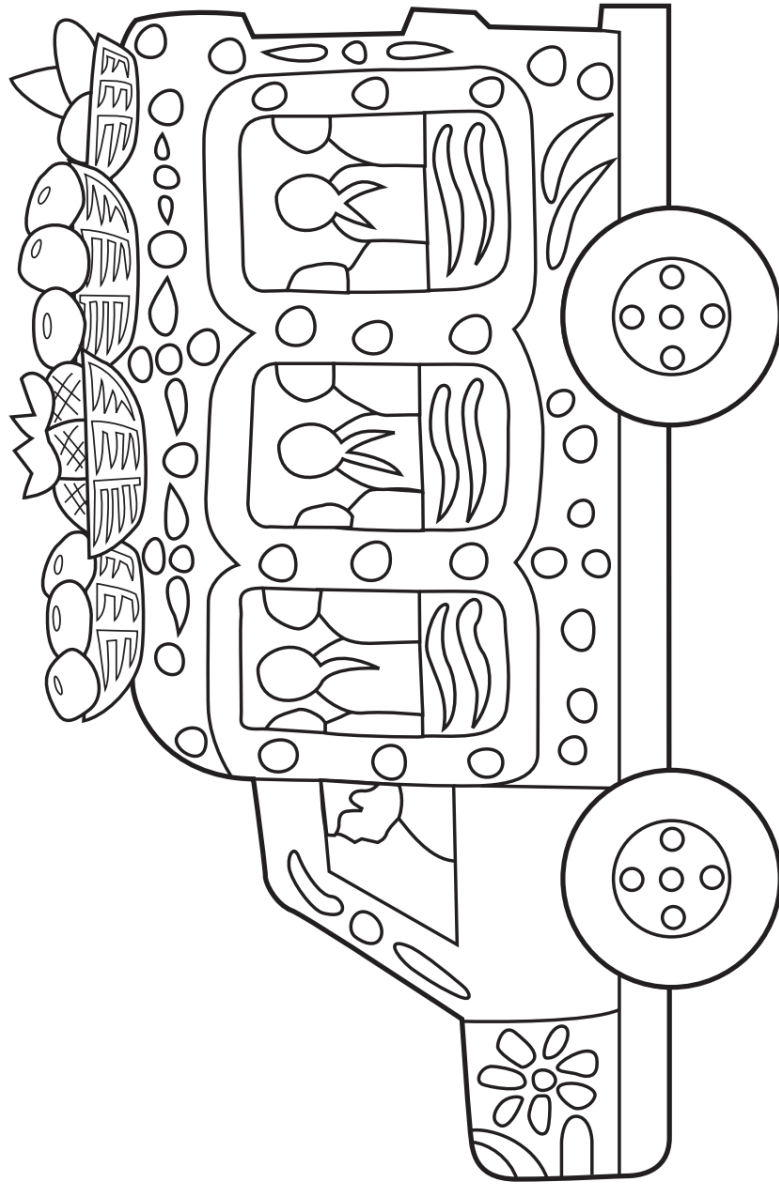

Instructions:

- Color the Tap Tap coloring sheet using markers or crayons
